Laboratory Planned to Combat Ailments and Further Prevention

Establishment of a laboratory for the investigation of poultry diseases and their control is expected to be completed in the near future by the Department of Agriculture. The laboratory will be located in the Los Angeles County Building, and will be available to all poultry raisers in the state. The laboratory will be equipped with the latest scientific apparatus, and will be staffed by a team of experts in the field of poultry diseases. The laboratory will be open to the public, and will be a valuable resource for the poultry raisers of the state.

Coolidge Favors New Deal
 Eventual Status Similar to Cuba Will be Urged in Report to Congress

Col. Thompson Data Used; Utilization of Rubber Resources Asked

WASHINGTON, Dec. 10. (Exclusive) — President Coolidge is maturing plans, it is reported today, to give the Philippines a new deal, involving the grant of virtually complete autonomy as an early date and independence eventually. It is the earnest desire of the President to settle the problem of the Philippines, to establish a relationship between the islands and the United States satisfactory to the Filipinos, to restore native co-operation in the government and to develop the vast natural resources of the archipelago, particularly the production of rubber, for the benefit of the Philippine people. The President will make the first formal move toward carrying out this program next week when he will transmit to Congress the report of Col. Carmel Thompson of Ohio, who was dispatched to the Philippines by the Executive to study the problem and advise him on the solution. Mr. Thompson's report will recommend such amendments of the Philippine Organic Act and other legislation as, in his opinion, will achieve his purpose and will endeavor to procure passage of the bills at this session.

INDEPENDENCE AIMS

Col. Thompson, in his report, advises the extension of the autonomy of the Philippines as rapidly as circumstances warrant. He believes that an agreement can be reached with the Filipinos on the question of autonomy and eventual independence whereby their complete independence in the government will be re-established and the way cleared for the development of rubber production on a large scale with American capital.

WETS LOSE IN HOUSE

Fund to Enforce But Not in Jail, Laughs Chief Appropriation Bill Carries $30,000,000 to Fight Dry Violations

Opponents Score in Defeat of $500,000 for Agents Under Cover

WASHINGTON, Dec. 10. (P) — Prohibition was a runaway fight today with House wets who sought to check enforcement activities by depriving the prohibition unit of its annual appropriation. When the fight, led by Massachusetts and New York wets, had died down, the House passed the Treasury-Postoffice appropriation bill, with its nearly $30,000,000 for enforcement by various agencies intact. The wets scored one victory, however, when on a point of order they eliminated a section which would have set aside $500,000 for advances to "under-cover" agents, with no provision for an accounting before expenditure. It was offered by Representative La Guardia, Republican, New York, and was opposed by Chairman Madden of the Appropriations Committee. La Guardia made the point that such a fund would be contrary to existing law. With passage of the bill, which appropriates $137,371,000 for the Treasury and $138,480,000 for the Postoffice Department, the House had before it the second supply bill, that for the Interior Department, totaling $289,888,000, which $22,708,000 is for payment of Civil and Spanish War pensions. It was reported today.

ENFORCEMENT ATTACKED

The first effort to cripple enforcement by the prohibition unit came from Representative Gallivan, Democrat, Massachusetts, who declared the unit was incapable of enforcing the law. Asserting he had no objection to giving money for enforcement, Mr. Gallivan offered an amendment to eliminate the nearly $20,000,000 for the prohibition unit. That and two other Gallivan amendments which would have accomplished the same thing were moved under in a vote that brought to a halt only wet members of the Massachusetts and New York delegations to support Gallivan.

OLD FEUDS RENEWED

The fight drew a number of old combatants in the long prohibition fight in the arena, including Representatives Cramton, Republican, Michigan, and Graham, Democrat, Georgia, dry spokesmen, and Representative Hill, wet Republican, from Maryland. Hill and Cramton engaged in a wordy duel that angered both while it amused the House. Cramton aroused Mr. Gallivan when he declared the wet advocate's speech of yesterday in which he linked prohibition with religious intolerance in Mexico, had embarrassed the Democratic colleague, many of whom he said had "divorced it." Immediately Gallivan replied that when two years ago he had introduced the Anti-Saloon League to raise their voice, Cramton was the only one to respond.

MISUSE ASSERTED

The Michigan Representative charged Gallivan with misusing a humorous situation that resulted from his misunderstanding of the question, and asserted that he did not use liquor. Mr. Cramton brought Gov. Smith of New York into the discussion when he said he wondered if he is a member of the wet board of strategy and whether it is in Tammany Hall. He said he did not believe, however, that Gov. Smith "is prepared to go before Court and say that he is a candidate for President, but as the candidate of the wets who opposed the law, and the attitude of Tammany on this floor today places him in a position as that kind of a candidate."

Fugitive to Turn Authority Meanwhile Urgent Plea Made for Arrest

CHICAGO, Dec. 10. (Exclusive) — Chief Collins, personal staff, who has been mysteriously missing from the police force for several days, arrived in Chicago late today. With him was Kenneth G. Ormiston, erstwhile radio operator, who is wanted in Los Angeles for telling stories, by affidavit, that Dist. Atty. Keyes says are not true. Immediately after his arrival here, Ormiston went into conference with his attorney, Edward H. S. Martin. The conference left the long-sought radio man determined to fight every effort to extradite him to Los Angeles, where he is wanted for trial with Almee Semple McPherson on felony charges. The fugitive also has just about made up his mind as to what he will and what he won't tell in regard to his knowledge of the McPherson case, which he is waiting for trial with Almee Semple McPherson on felony charges. "But Keyes won't get me back to California," Ormiston predicted. "I don't believe he wants me back there. He hasn't proper material on which to base an extradition request. They can't prove any crime against me. I have done nothing wrong and have nothing to fear." Ormiston is about to desert the transient radio for the somewhat more enduring fame of newspaper publicity, it is stated. He is, according to report, to turn author for the so-called reason that he needs the money and can get it—maybe $10,000.

ARREST REQUESTED

Chief Collins, who was in Harrisburg when his front-office man, Sgt. Donnelly, helped Ormiston into his overcoat, maintained tonight that he knew nothing about the case and was sure the ex-radio man and asserted companion of Almee Semple McPherson is not under arrest. "No," said the Chief, "I am so sure he is not under arrest that I have wired the authorities in Los Angeles to that effect. Sgt. Donnelly may have him, but he is not under arrest. He isn't in a police station, is he?" Ormiston was not in a police station, but Dep. Dist. Atty. Dennison of Los Angeles believes he should be. He sent to Chief Collins, Ind. and Gary, a request that he be taken from his custody as a private captor and consigned to the Coast under a police guard on a felony charge. Sgt. Donnelly was not specifically named in the request.

Compares to Garment Worn
on Day of Departure on Holy Land Trip

A two-piece blue serge dress with a cape to match, similar to the one worn by Almeda Semple McPherson upon her departure for the Holy Land on January 14, last, appears in the "little blue trunk" belonging to Kenneth G. Ormiston, phantom radio man, now under arrest in Chicago in connection with the evangelist's case. This was the startling announcement made last night by Dep. Dist. Atty. Dennison, who is in charge of the McPherson case during the absence of Dist. Atty. Keyes.

Mr. Dennison pointed out that the dress in Ormiston's trunk is identical, even down to the number of buttons, with the "departure gown" worn by the evangelist as she waved good-bye to the throng at the railway station. The Prosecutor asserted the dress was identified from photographs taken of Mrs. McPherson on the observation platform of the limited.

This is the first definite step on the part of the State linking Mrs. McPherson with the ownership of the sixty-seven articles of women's wearing apparel and odds and ends of feminine finery Mr. Dennison asserted.

TEN BUTTONS IN A ROW

With these photographs in possession of the District Attorney's office, Mr. Dennison last night compared the blue serge cape and dress. He pointed to what he termed one highly conclusive bit of evidence—ten black buttons all in a row—on one of the sleeves of the dress.

The buttons on the dress's right arm sleeve count ten.

The buttons shown on the right arm sleeve by the photographs count ten.

The cape in the trunk has a scalloped edge.

The cape shown in the departure photographs has a scalloped edge.

The cape in the trunk has a braided collar.

The departure photographs show a braided collar on Mrs. McPherson's cloak.

Photographs used for the identification by Mr. Dennison of the dress in the trunk show Mrs. McPherson on the observation platform, holding a bouquet of flowers, standing beside Paul Rader, Chicago evangelist who occupied the pulpit at Angelus Temple during Mrs. McPherson's trip to the Holy Land.

TRACING BLUE TRUNK

The blue cape and dress, according to Mr. Dennison, is typical of the raiment usually worn by the temple leader. It is a two-piece affair. One piece is known as a coat-dress with wrist-length sleeves. The dress is trimmed with several rows of black buttons. The cape piece throws over the shoulders, being attached to the dress in the back with buttons and has ribbons which tie from the breast of the cape.

According to evidence now in the District Attorney's possession, Ormiston, under the name of "H. C. Cornell," bought the trunk at a Pasadena luggage shop on May 1, last, and had it sent to the Maryland Hotel, where he was registered under the same name. Ormiston registered at the Maryland on April 24, the same day which the evangelist returned to Los Angeles from the Holy Land, and checked out on May 4, last, when he ordered the trunk shipped to Jacksonville, Fla., under the name of "Ralph Stringer."

Mr. Dennison pointed out last night that when the trunk was taken to the Maryland it was empty. Records of the American Railway Express show it weighed in the neighborhood of seventy-two pounds and was taken from Ormiston's room at the Maryland and shipped to Jacksonville.

The trunk was traced from Jacksonville to New York, where officers seized it at the Cumberland and sent it to Mr. Keyes as part of the evidence against Mrs. McPherson on the conspiracy charges.

Information is also in the hands of Mr. Dennison showing Ormiston on April 23, the day after the evangelist's return, made a trip to the Maryland with a mystery woman companion. He asserts he is awaiting information which will disclose the

ORMISTON WARRANT WIRED

Extradition Papers Prepared to Send to Chicago;
Radio Man's Indictment to Be Asked

While Dist. Atty. Keyes was hurrying from Washington to Chicago to obtain custody of the will-o'-the-wisp radio man of the Almeda Semple McPherson case, a telegraphic warrant was sent yesterday to Chief of Police Collins of Chicago asking him to hold Kenneth G. Ormiston in custody for California authorities.

Ormiston is said to be in the custody of "private captors" who had failed up to a late hour last evening to turn him over to duly constituted authorities.

Developments moved swiftly in Los Angeles as a result of the capture of Ormiston, chief of which was the sending of the telegraphic warrant. Dep. Dist. Atty. Dennison, in charge of the case here, began yesterday the preparation of extradition papers and also moved to go before the grand jury at its next Tuesday's meeting to ask the indictment of the radio man on his arrival in Los Angeles.

WARRANT WIRED

The telegraphic warrant for Ormiston was sent to Chicago's Police Chief by Chief of Detectives Cohn of the District Attorney's office.

PLANS ANNOUNCED

Mr. Dennison stated extradition papers probably will be completed today and hurried to Sacramento for Gov. Richardson's signature. When the papers are signed by the Governor they will be sent to Chicago when the battle for the custody for Ormiston will be started in event he puts up a fight against his return to Los Angeles as has been intimated by his Chicago attorney, E. S. Martin.

The indictment of Ormiston on conspiracy charges will be sought to facilitate the prosecution of the radio man on his arrival in Los Angeles. Mr. Dennison stated. The grand jury indictment will be sought after the jurors examine the transcript of the evidence at the recent preliminary hearing before Municipal Judge Blake when Judge Stephens some time the latter part of next month or early in January.

According to Mr. Dennison nothing will enter in the negotiations to return Ormiston to this city.

"We have a complete case against him," Mr. Dennison said, and there is no need of promising Ormiston anything but a fair and impartial trial.

Cohn arrived in Los Angeles yesterday from Oakland where he seized Ormiston's blue Chrysler coupe at the Waverly garage where it had been stored since June 24, last. Investigator Horn drove the car to Los Angeles, arriving here with it yesterday afternoon.

The car was placed in the county garage under guard to be used as an exhibit in the McPherson trial.

The articles of wearing apparel found in the machine, as well as a portable Corona typewriter and a portable radio were locked up in Mr. Keyes's vault.

Two strands of hair with a reddish tint which also were found in the car forthwith were sent to the University of California at Berkeley for scientific comparison with strands of hair from Mrs. McPherson's head. A report is expected within a few days.

Cohn yesterday also put his investigators to work tracing from the serial numbers the place of purchase and the identity of the purchaser of the portable radio and the typewriter. Specimens from the typewriter also were said to have been turned over officially to experts yesterday for comparison with the typing of the $500,000 ransom letter received by Mrs. Kennedy prior to the reappearance of Mrs. McPherson.

The arrest of Ormiston also revealed yesterday in an affidavit served by the police officers that Ormiston was found packed to overflowing with women's finery. Mrs. Dennison visited a vault of a downtown bank where the clothing again.

It was reported he was seeking a greenish-colored dress with a cape effect and decorated with a large number of buttons. A dress of similar description is said to have been worn by Mrs. McPherson when she left Los Angeles on her trip for the Holy Land.

MRS. McPHERSON'S STOLEN AUTO FOUND

Mrs. McPherson's Kissel coupe, which was given to her two years ago, was recovered yesterday after it had been stolen from in front of the evangelist's home at Angelus Temple Thursday night. The car was abandoned by the thieves on Seventy-sixth street after they had stripped it of a number of accessories. The car was insured and the loss was nominal.

The evangelist was inclined to believe that some one had taken the car in an effort to obtain her fingerprints from the steering wheel.

been. He is merely being escorted by Sgt. Donnelly and is willingly discussing such subjects as he will write about in his pending literary career. There are no handcuffs on him and it is likely he will be permitted even from writer's cramp. Eventually, it is assumed, he will go to Los Angeles, not as a prisoner but as a guest—possibly with the obliging Sgt. Donnelly as his host. But whether Ormiston goes back to his home at Angelus Temple, or to the extent of making an arrest. He is too tired from his trip to Harrisburg.

The conference between Ormiston and his attorney is scheduled for tomorrow morning. It will revolve, it was indicated, about the efforts of the Los Angeles authorities to have the radio man extradited. Ormiston was quoted as ready to surrender to officers but he determined to fight extradition to Los Angeles.

CRITICISM VOICED

The police department today continued to receive public criticism of the manner in which the mysterious journey of Ormiston to Chicago has been carried out with a Chicago police officer directing it. The criticism included a letter from Dep. Dist. Atty. D. A. son of Los Angeles. Dennison in a wire to Collins declared that it was a mystery to what the Chicago officers are trying to do with Ormiston.

Dennison also contained a demand that Ormiston be held in Chicago for extradition and urged that he be handled as any other prisoner.

Early this afternoon a report was sent to Chicago that Ormiston and his guardian left a train on the Pennsylvania Railroad at Plymouth, Ind., shortly after noon. There, the report said, the party was met by an added escort in an automobile. Plymouth is more than 180 miles from Chicago.

Detective Donnelly will be called before the Chief of Police on his arrival here to explain why he was in Harrisburg without authority from headquarters, Chief Collins announced today.

I gave Donnelly permission to work on this case when the request was made to me," the Chief said, "but I understood that Ormiston was in or near Chicago and had no idea that his officer was in Harrisburg."

Although Chief Collins also was in Harrisburg on the night that Ormiston was "found," he denied any connection with the affair or knowledge that Donnelly was in town. Collins had addressed a police officers' meeting Wednesday afternoon, he told interviewers.

Equal mystery surrounded the Ormiston "arrest" at Harrisburg, Pa., where the former Angelus Temple radio broadcast engineer was found living in a modest bachelor's apartment overlooking the Susquehanna River. The taxi cab, rented for the radio man's mysterious drive with his "captors," had not returned to its home office late yesterday.

WORD LACKING

Officials of the taxi company denied they had any information of a proposed destination or that they had received word from their car driver, Frank Moore.

After Ormiston was "arrested" in his apartment in the Pennsylvania city, he spent the remainder of Wednesday night at a hotel with his "captors" and started westward at a conference between the police officers. Reservations were purchased on a train for Chicago, but the compartment was unoccupied when the train left Harrisburg.

Ormiston said he had been living two months in the Pennsylvania town under the assumed name of "F. Manning," and that he had been in the Harrisburg police office of times during his residence there.

NEW BLUE COUPE MYSTERY

Ormiston Had Woman Companion on Trip to Holy Land, Records Reveal

Kenneth G. Ormiston's blue coupe automobile which was seized at an Oakland garage, figured in another mystery which the radio man made with a woman companion. It was disclosed today at the District Attorney's office. The identity of Ormiston's companion is expected to be known within twenty-four hours.

The trip now under investigation was made by Ormiston on April 23, the day following the triumphant return of Almeda Semple McPherson from her extended trip through Europe and the Holy Land. She returned to Los Angeles on April 24, last.

According to documentary evidence and information now in the possession of Dep. Dist. Atty. Dennison, the radio engineer was driving along Glenview boulevard en route from the general direction of Angelus Temple when his automobile broke down. A woman was with him at the time.

CALLED TAXICAB

He had his automobile towed into the Maryland Garage at 123 North Maryland street, Glendale, to be repaired, and then called a taxicab. He was driven to the Maryland Hotel, Ormiston and his woman companion at the Maryland Garage.

According to information uncovered by Investigators Horn and Lane, Ormiston then proceeded to the Maryland Hotel in Pasadena where he was registered as "H. C. Cornell." The taxi driver let them out of the machine a block away from the hotel, it was said.

Ormiston registered at the Maryland in Pasadena on April 24, and remained there until May 6, when he checked out. During the time he was at the Maryland he purchased in Pasadena the "little blue trunk" which has figured so prominently in the McPherson case.

TRUNK SHIPPED

He bought the trunk on May 1. When he arrived at the hotel his baggage equipment, according to hotel records, was two handbags. When he checked out of the hotel the trunk weighed in the neighborhood of seventy-two pounds. When it was burglarized, declared the whole affair was a "publicity stunt," but he declined to amplify his statement other than to say he had overheard considerable conversation regarding vaudeville contracts for Ormiston.

Hoax Woman
Now Eager to Face Ormiston

Mrs. Lorraine Wiseman-Sellars, exposed perpetrator of the Carmel hoax, who posed as the sister of "Miss X" and declared she was mistaken for Mrs. McPherson at Carmel, is anxious to make the acquaintance of Ormiston.

"Certainly I'll face Mr. Ormiston," Mrs. Wiseman said. "But first something will have to introduce me to the man so I'll know him."

Mrs. Wiseman in an affidavit declared she was the sister of the woman who sojourned ten days at Carmel with Ormiston, and that she was the woman seen in the yard with the radio man, and whom the State contends was Mrs. McPherson. At that time she stated positively she knew Ormiston.

The hoax woman also was positive that her sister, Mrs. Viria Lee Kimball of Oakland, whom the defense contended signed the "Miss X" affidavit, would be equally glad to face Ormiston.

But, she too, will need an introduction," Mrs. Wiseman declared.

GERMANY DEFIES ALLIES IN ARMAMENT CONTROL

Refuses to Give Up Exportation of War Material and Fort; Far East Plot Seen

PARIS, Dec. 10. (AP)—"Still a good way apart," was the word tonight to describe the position of the Germans and the Allies with regard to a settlement on the armament question. Allied military experts were distinctly pessimistic after the Council of Ambassadors at a two-hour session today failed to get very far in the direction of recommending that the export of German armaments be placed under the direct jurisdiction of the League of Nations, instead of the Interallied Control Commission, as at present.

Prosecution in Col. Green Case Closes

Testimony of Stenographer Feature of Day

LIQUOR HELD FOR EVIDENCE Declared Taken

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 10. (AP)—The prosecution closed today in the trial of Col. Fred M. Green, former Federal prohibition administrator for Northern California and Nevada, on eleven charges of embezzling government liquor stores.

Testimony that he had been sent to Winnemucca, Nev., last summer, to investigate reports that bootleggers were making inroads on a motion picture colony there, although he carried no authority as a Federal agent, was offered by Ivan Johnson, newspaper man, today. Johnson was under cross-examination.

BILL INCLUDING PENSIONS READYInterior Department Measure Carries $259,386,000*House Gets Plans for Giving Veterans $222,708,000*National Park Service Will Get $3,362,000 Aid

WASHINGTON, Dec. 10. (P)—Carrying a total of $259,386,000, of which more than four-fifths is for Civil and Spanish War pensions, the bill appropriating funds for the Interior Department for the fiscal year beginning July 1 was reported today to the House.

The bill's total, including $222,708,000 for the Pension Bureau, represented an increase of $22,048,000 over the current appropriations, but a decrease of $1,151,000 below the budget estimate. The Appropriations Committee in reporting the measure said most of the advance was made necessary by pension increases authorized by Congress last winter, raising the bureau's total $28,787,000 in the present bill.

For reclamation work on western projects $11,681,000 was provided, an increase of $2,042,000 over funds now available, including $450,000 for the Baker project in Oregon.

OTHER APPROPRIATIONS
Other appropriations were as follows:

Indian Bureau, $12,890,000, a decrease of $301,000 under current law; National Park Service, $3,362,000, decrease, $388,000; General Land Office, $2,297,000, decrease, $44,000; Geological Survey, $1,307,000, decrease $11,000; government in territories and Alaska railroad, $1,620,000, decrease, $675,000, and for continued construction of the Coolidge Dam in Arizona, $750,000.

Because of Secretary Work's disapproval of any salary increase in the service, the committee explained, the measure carried no funds for that purpose.

Asserting that attendance in national parks had increased 38 per cent in the last three years, the committee recommended an increase in the authority to incur obligations to the amount of $2,500,000 instead of $1,500,000, as provided by the budget, for road construction.

"If the recommendation should be approved," he reported, "it would stand as an approval by Congress of an expenditure of not less than $2,500,000 per year for road construction in the parks."

COMMITTEE'S STATEMENT
The committee in making the appropriation for reclamation work said:

"It is recommended that money advanced by water users for operation and maintenance of projects shall be available for expenditure for the purposes for which advanced, and where such funds are expected to be available do not recommend appropriation for operation and maintenance. The committee also recommends a limitation intended to prevent use of appropriations for operation and maintenance for the purpose of lands in arrears for such charges."

Specific appropriations include: $100,000 for economic investigations for fur project, Arizona-California, $388,000; Orland, Cal., $640,000; Newlands, Nev., $188,000; Carlsbad, N. M., $450,000; Rio Grande, New Mexico-Texas, $750,000; Owyhee, $2,000,000; Yala, $750,000; North Oregon, Okanogan, Wash., $65,000; Yakima, Wash., $388,000; Yakima (Kittitas division) Wash., $2,000,000; Colorado River from work and levee system, $35,000.

The $3,362,000 national park appropriation was divided as follows: Crater Lake, Or., $65,500; Gen. Grant, Cal., $15,500; Glacier, Mont., $15,500; Grand Canyon, Ariz., $125,000; Hot Springs, Ark., $60,500; Lafayette, Me., $37,940; Lassen, Cal., $15,500; Mesa Verde, Cal., $30,780; Mt. Rainier, Wash., $106,000; Watkins, N. M., $10,000; Rocky Mountain, Colo., $97,500; Sequoia, Cal., $100,000; Wind Cave, S. D., $10,000; Wyoming, Wyo., $400,000; Yosemite, Cal., $301,000; Zion, Utah, $30,800; Carlsbad Caves, N. M., $19,800; Southern Appalachian National Park, $50,000; Hawaiian National Park, $18,250.

Col. Carrington Takes Stand in Divorce Action

CHICAGO, Dec. 10. (P)—Col. Edward G. Carrington, multimillionaire publisher and former campaign manager for Theodore Roosevelt, appeared in Circuit Court here today in a divorce action. His estranged wife, Mrs. Anna Walsh Carrington of New York, also was present. She asked $2000 a month temporary alimony. Both principals requested Judge Lynch reserved his decision until tomorrow.

A month ago Col. Carrington filed a bill for divorce charging his wife with desertion. Mrs. Carrington answered by filing a cross bill charging cruelty and nonsupport.

In an amended cross bill and petition the Colonel charged his wife with having had undue relations with his brother and partner, Campbell Carrington.

Mrs. Carrington testified today that her husband had an income of $100,000 a year. Col. Carrington declared his income was only $12,000 a year.

Northcliffe Aide Gives Up Suit on Sale Agreement

LONDON, Dec. 10. (P)—Miss Louise Owen, secretary to the late Lord Northcliffe for twenty years, has withdrawn all the charges in her suit seeking to set aside an agreement for the sale of certain of the Northcliffe securities on the ground that they were disposed of at less than their value.

She agreed to a judgment for the defendants. The judge thereupon dismissed the suit, with costs which it is estimated will amount to about $35,000.

HOLDING OF PRESENT MILK RATES URGED

WASHINGTON, Dec. 10. (P)—A recommendation against any change in baggage and express rates on milk and cream moving through Arizona, California, Colorado, Idaho, Montana, Nevada, New Mexico, Oregon, Utah, Washington and Nevada was made to the Interstate Commerce Commission today by a commission examiner. A complaint had been made by Utah exporters handling milk.

Woodrow Wilson Prize Goes to Elihu Root

OSLO (Norway) Dec. 10. (AP)—The Nobel Institute today honored four internationally known statesmen, including Charles G. Dawes, Vice-President of the United States, in recognition of their efforts in behalf of world peace.

The Nobel Peace Prize for 1926 was awarded to Vice-President Dawes and Sir Austen Chamberlain, British Secretary for Foreign Affairs, while the 1926 Peace Prize was awarded to Aristides Briand, French Minister of Foreign Affairs, and Dr. Gustav Strese-mann, Germany's Foreign Minister.

The Nobel medals and diplomas were received on behalf of the four statesmen by the American, British, German and French ministers here
at a meeting of the Nobel Institute.
King Haakon Crown Prince Olaf, representatives of the Norwegian government and diplomatic corps were present.

Dr. Fritjof Nansen, addressing the institute, said that the first light shed on the darkness of post-war improvement was by the adoption of the Dawes plan, which permitted Germany to rehabilitate her finances and commence payment of reparations. It was the United States, he said, which stretched a helping hand
when the darkness was thickest.

The Dawes plan, Dr. Nansen said, was an important condition to the policy of peace, which led to the Locarno Conference at which Sir Austen, M. Briand and Dr. Strese-mann played so prominent a part.

Dr. Nansen urged that all the governments of Europe do everything in their power to strengthen the League of Nations to the end that the terrible specter of war might be abolished and the future secured.

ELIHU ROOT GETS WILSON AWARD

NEW YORK, Dec. 10. (AP)—Elihu Root, noted American statesman and lawyer, has been awarded the Woodrow Wilson Foundation peace prize for 1926.

The Woodrow Wilson honor has been accorded to Mr. Root because of his efforts toward founding the Court of International Justice.

Only one previous peace award has been made by the Woodrow Wilson Foundation prior to that to Mr. Root.
The other was to Viscount Cecil of Oxford, Great Britain's chief representative to the League of Nations.

It was given in 1924 for meritorious service of peace through justice. Viscount Cecil long has been known as a strong advocate of peace and a reduction in world armaments.

Announcement of the award of the Wilson Foundation prize to Mr. Root was made by Norman H. Davis, president of the foundation. The presentation of the medal and of a medal to commemorate the distinguished honored will be made to Mr. Root on the seventeenth anniversary of Woodrow Wilson's birth, the 28th inst.

The function will take place at a dinner at the Hotel Astor in New York City.
In his announcement Mr. Davis says that the importance of Mr.
Root's services were made manifest during the last few years by the growing prestige of the World Court and its success in preserving peace through the settlement of international questions of a justifiable character.

Mr. Davis cited that as Secretary of State of the United States Mr.
Root formulated instructions to the American delegates to the second conference at The Hague in 1907, the object of which was to supersede the Hague tribunal by a genuine international court. Difficulties in the nature of deciding how the judges of the court should be chosen caused a failure of this conference, and it was not until 1920 when Mr. Root solved the difficulty.

The American statesman recommended that the nominations be made from different groups of nations, represented at the tribunal, and tribunal and sent to an electoral college composed of members of the Council and Assembly of the League of Nations, where both great and small nations were adequately represented. The judges thus chosen were to constitute the bench of the World Court. A protocol to this effect was drawn up and the World Court was established.

NOBEL PRIZE ACCEPTED BY DAWES

WASHINGTON, Dec. 10. (AP)—Vice-President Dawes today authorized American Minister Swenson at Oslo to accept on his behalf the Nobel Peace Prize for 1926. Accepting the award as chairman of the committee of experts of the Reparations Commission, Mr. Dawes in his message of acceptance paid high tribute to other members of the committee.

This award, which is in recognition of the work of the first committee of experts' Reparations Commission, of which I was chairman, is gratefully acknowledged," he said, in a message to Mr. Swenson.

"This committee was composed of Owen D. Young, Sir Joseph C. Stamp,
Sir Robert N. Kinderley, Jean Parmentier, Edgar Allan, Alberto Pier-elli, Frederico Ferra, Emile Fran-qui, Baron Maurice Rostart and myself. It was the endeavor of the committee to found their plan upon the principles of justice, fairness and mutual interest, relying for its acceptance thus proposed, upon that common good faith which is the enduring safeguard of that hope for universal peace.

"That the results achieved under it have merited for it in your judgment this high recognition, is a tribute to their united effort."

DEATH REAPING RICH HARVEST

Year's Mortality Estimated at 75,000 Increase

Insurance Companies

Contrast Made With Recent 9 Per Cent Decrease

NEW YORK, Dec. 10. (AP)—Deaths in the United States this year probably will exceed by 75,000 the total number in 1925, Henry S. Nollen of Des Moines, Iowa, president of the Equitable Life Insurance Company of Iowa, said in address today before the convention of the Association of Life Insurance Presidents.

More Americans were killed by automobiles during the past two years than in the World War, he asserted, estimating that the total number of death victims in automobile accidents would exceed 32,000 this year.
Higher mortality rates for 1926, he said, were due to the fact that the year, while deaths by murder dropped 7 per cent, figures so far indicate, he said.

EXCEPTIONAL YEAR

This year's increase in the death rate, Mr. Nollen pointed out, should not be taken as indicating such a trend for recent years, as the mortality rate during the period of the past six years alone has decreased more than 9 per cent.

Of the expected increase of 75,000 in the number of deaths for this year, Mr. Nollen said that 32,000 might be expected by normal growth of the country's population, while 33,000 deaths would result from the higher mortality rates for 1926. The estimated increase in deaths this year was based on the combined figures of 275,000 deaths in 1925, and 275,000 deaths in 1926, and 275,000 deaths in 1927.

Heart disease, responsible for the deaths of more Americans than any other cause, is still on the increase.
Mr. Nollen reported. Deaths from Bright's disease, cancer and apoplexy,
other leading causes of mortality, however, have increased during the year, he said, while deaths from tuberculosis has tended to decrease.

STABILITY AID

Fred A. Howland, president of the National Life Insurance Company
Montpelier, Vt., said that life insurance "is even now one of the great bulwarks against the encroachment of Communism." He also asserted that in his opinion the "place that life insurance holds in the economic development of America furnishes one of its most definite claims to enlightened altruism."

The South and West have led in the growth of life-insurance companies since 1900, Julian Price, president of the Jefferson Standard Life Insurance Company, Greensboro, N. C., told the convention. Illinois, which had only four companies in 1900, now leads with thirty-three, he said, while Missouri is second with twenty-two, compared with one in 1900, and Texas is third, with eighteen companies, compared with one in 1900.

NEW CHARGE SURPRISE IN QUINN CASE

Administrator of Estate
Asserts Former Partner
Appropriated $36,719

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 10. (Exclusive)—A sensational accusation that came as a complete surprise today was injected into the hearing to determine what became of the $100,000 estate of the late John Quinn, for the residue of which asserted heirs and two Los Angeles organizations are contending. The accusation was in the form of an affidavit from Charles L. McEnerney, administrator of the estate, under whose direction the fortune devolved to a paltry $487.

McEnerney's affidavit accuses Rugense Aueguy of appropriating $36,719 of money that belonged to the estate. McEnerney charges it never was returned. McEnerney and Aue-guy formerly were partners in a business that was organized to search for heirs to various estates. McEnerney, after the split-up with Aue-guy, was sent to a hospital for the insane. Counsel for the six "heirs" have charged in court that the commitment of McEnerney was a preconceived plan to get him and his knowledge of the estate funds out of the way and over that McEnerney is perfectly rational.

The Los Angeles Orphanage and Dominican Sisters entered the legal tangle to determine what became of the rentals of $1000 monthly on Needles property deeded to them by Quinn before his death for income purposes.

Doctors Said to Have Sped Death of Washington

WASHINGTON, Dec. 10. (AP)—
George Washington might have lived several years longer if his physicians had not "almost bled him to death," in the opinion of President William Mather Lewis of George Washington University.

The drawing of blood was fundamental medical practice of Washington's time, Dr. Lewis declared, and when the first President complained of a sore throat, several ounces of blood were immediately drawn by the doctor. The next morning the operation was repeated, but after a third bleeding, Lewis said, Washington suggested to his physicians that the
"let him die without further interruption." The bleeding for various ills, however, was continued right up to his death.

Hunt's Election in Arizona Not to be Contested

PHOENIX, Dec. 10. (AP)—The election of George W. P. Hunt, Democrat, to his sixth term as Governor of Arizona, will not be contested, Judge E. S. Clark, unsuccessful Republican candidate, announced tonight. Previously Clark said he would contest the election of the State said he had decided not to contest
the election, "even though substantial grounds may exist."

HAWAII REPORTS BOUNTIFUL YEAR

Island Population at Peak

Bank Deposits Show Gain in Twelve Months

Sugar Crop Yield Said to be Largest on Record

WASHINGTON, Dec. 10. (Exclusive)—Estimating the population of Hawaii
at 238,444, the largest in its history, and announcing normal and gratifying progress of the Territory, the Governor of Hawaii today submitted his report for the fiscal year of 1926.

Of the total population, the Governor points out that 210,893 are American citizens divided into groups of whites, native Hawaiians, Filipinos, Japanese, Chinese and others. With regard to the economic development of the Territory during the year, the bank deposits are shown to have reached the high-water mark of $871-$81,899, an increase of over $6,000,000 over the previous year. Yields of the main agricultural crops, cane sugar and pineapple, were excellent, with the sugar crop reported as the largest on record. The coffee crop on the islands was larger than usual
during the year, selling at a good price.

The Territory paid into the Federal Treasury taxes amounting to $3,483-$36, according to the report, of which $2,745,283 was paid through the Internal Revenue Bureau, and $1,748-$241 collected on imports received in the Hawaii custom districts. The same number of new homes being the domestic administration of the Territory and its municipal divisions amounted to $12,478,166. The assessed value of real and personal property totalled $992,782,143.

Stating that the Territorial government was continuing to concentrate on public education, the Governor reported that the cost of maintaining public schools was the largest single item of expenditure. Out of the total amount collected in Territorial taxes, $4,819,885 was expended on public education. During the year there were 58,860 children enrolled in the public schools under instruction from 1977 teachers. The Territory has in the process of developing a thoroughly modern budget and accounting system modeled after that of the Federal government and has established also an employees' retirement system for employees of the Territory.

The report shows that labor conditions were satisfactory during the year. Extensive construction in the business district of Honolulu with a large number of new homes being built, together with Territorial and municipal contracts for harbor, highway, and public building improvements, kept workers in the building trades very steadily employed. Establishing the independent farmer on the land furnishes a problem, which is being worked out by the Hawaiian Homes Commission.

The Governor states that birth registration difficulties, involving the treatment of American citizens of Hawaiian ancestry, between the Territory of Hawaii and the ports of the mainland, have been definitely settled by a revision of the administrative methods in the Immigration Bureau of the Department of Labor.

Andrews, who earlier this week is said to have admitted a long list of forgeries which he had committed from the Middle West to the Pacific Coast, apparently has the faculty of making himself invisible. Some time between 2 a. m. today and 7 o'clock he walked out of the jail, leaving no one to be seen or heard of since.

Hope Abandoned

for Men Lost in Freak Storm

LAGUNA BEACH, Dec. 10.—A phenomenal increase in postal receipts was recorded here during November. It was announced today by Clayton S. Norton, postmaster. The increase was due to the fact that the post office received a large number of letters from men who had been lost in the freak storm that hit the coast last week.

The young woman was well known throughout the Southland as a dancer and dramatic artist. She studied under Ruth St. Denis and was the protégée of Mme. Pawlowa for several years, before giving up dancing to dramatics.

REDONDO BEACH, Dec. 10.—Hopes of finding Fred Kelly and L. McKimley alive virtually was abandoned by friends and relatives today, following a two-day search of the ocean where they were fishing when the freck storm of Wednesday struck the Coast.

Kelly and McKinley left the Redondo pier early Wednesday and were expected to return in the afternoon. Other boats came in as soon as the postal receipts, has swelled from 1930 last year to more than 2200 this year. The increase in postal receipts is due to the activity of any one person or firm, but is well distributed, according to the postmaster. Norton declares that postal receipts for the

Mr. and Mrs. Football Fan the real All-American gridiron eleven for 1926 has been selected. The list of the truly greats developed during the season will be published EXCLUSIVELY IN THE TIMES TOMORROW. Walter Eckersall is recognized as the only successor to the famous Walter Camp and his selections are law with every football player, coach and dyed-in-the-wool fan. Eckersall is considered the most authoritative expert on football in the world and his vast experience as an All-American player and writer qualifies him for the enviable position which he holds in the football world. Eckersall goes into details in explaining his choice of players having seen practically all of his men in action and his interesting article will furnish The Times with enough material to satisfy the most rabid fan. Look for it tomorrow in the incomparable eight-cent section of the Sunday Times.

Conference Cross-Country Run at Redlands Today

COURSE IS IN PERFECT SHAPE

Wind and Rain Make Ground Firm for Race

Great Battle Looms for Top Honors in Meet

Rival Schools Represented by Star Men

REDLANDS, Dec. 10.—When the overland Mercury of the conference gather here tomorrow for the annual cross-country jaunt, they will find a course in perfect shape. Came first the heavy rain that softened the hills of the Country Club section, over which the course is laid. Came then the wind which hurried to and fro drying the surface of the ground. Came then the sun to finish the job.

So that the course will be over ground with a perfect footing for the runners and yet the wet dirt underneath will make a springy surface which should be ideal for the runners. And if the day is clear and sunshiny as today is then it is confidently expected there will be some records broken.

The course was laid out by the coaches of the conference who could come for that purpose. It starts close to the Country Club and winds up a canyon there to Sunset Drive. This is a good dirt road and winds in and out among the hills and in and out of canyons to make a perfect cross-country run.

The leather runners will stage the greatest battle in the history of the cross-country runs, it is said. There are some crack runners on all the teams and it is not considered likely that any one school will be able to place more than one man among the first five in.

This is the first time the race has been run in Redlands. Schmidt and Drake are the big men for Southern Branch, Bletcher and Ray for Pomona, Revell for Occidental, Hallett for Caltech and Dots and Hettler for Redlands will be closely watched.

DELANEY STOPS NEGRO IN FIGHT

Berlinbach. The champion's weight was 173 1/2 pounds and the negro's 175.

The Jamaica Kid was on the floor five times in the third round before he was counted out, a right uppercut to the jaw sending him to the canvas for the final count about midway of the round. The first three rounds were up before the referee could start the count.

Delaney staggered his opponent several times in the second, but the bounding tactics of the negro prevented the champion from landing solidly. During the first round the Kid either hung on, or kept out of Delaney's reach.

DAN O'LEARY HIKES FRIENDS INTO GROUND

Dan O'Leary, the 37-year-old walking champion, took three of his friends for a short hike yesterday morning. The young pedestrian led them as far as Long Beach, where the rest of the party thought they had enough of Dan's short walks. Dan wanted to walk back but his friends protested so loudly that he gave in and came back on the train, much to Dan's disgust. Dan said that they made the walk in four hours and forty-two minutes. On Sunday O'Leary will walk around the base at Bell twelve times within ten minutes before the Yellow Cab baseball nine and the Bell team play ball.

ROTARY MEETS LIONS ON BALL FIELD TODAY

Baseball teams representing the Rotary and Lions clubs will tangle today on the Glendale Park field. Third and Fairfax. This is the first diamond tussle these teams have ever engaged in, but it is hoped by the supporters of the affair to make it an annual event.

OAKLAND PROS DUE TODAY

Northern Gridders Arrive This Morning for Grid Game With Hollywood Tomorrow

The Oakland professional football team is slated to arrive in Los Angeles this morning at 9:45 o'clock. Tomorrow afternoon at Wrigley Field the visitors will take on the Hollywood Generals. The Generals are leading the Pacific Coast League with four straight wins while Oakland has dropped but one game this season.

Incidentally tomorrow's game will be the last of the Coast season. The Los Angeles club, the weak sister of the outfit, has already given up the ghost and will not go north to play San Francisco tomorrow.

Hollywood is trying to arrange games with Red Orange, George Wilson and Ernie Nevers, while a combination of the San Francisco and Oakland teams is after the same featured athletes for titles in the north.

The Oakland team is capable of giving Hollywood a real scrap and tomorrow's game should be hard fought and exciting. In the Oakland line-up are such players as "Red" and "Lefty" Williams.

Spartans Cop Lightweight Grid Laurels

Huntington Park High School was crowned the Southern California lightweight champion yesterday afternoon when it downed the Pasadena High School Bulldogs on Horrell Field. The Park boys started off in the first period with a rush and worked the ball down the field to the Bulldog 10-yard line, where they lost the ball, but came back strong a few minutes later and with several off-tackle plays with Saver carrying the pigskin they crossed the Bulldog goal line for six points. Bitter placed-kicked for an extra point.

The Park boys, determined to add a few more points to their score, shoved the ball down the tankard to the Pasadena 3-yard line, where they were held. Pasadena kicked out of danger and the Huntington lads started on a trip to the Bulldog line when the gun called the ball.

Coch Claude Ripplar woke up his squad and they started with a rush that carried the ball from their own 20-yard line to Huntington Park's 15-yard mark with a series of passes. This was the nearest the Bulldogs came to scoring. The ball was run up and down the field until the last five minutes when Hall, Bulldog quarter, tossed several passes that found comfort in the arms of Lopez. Jones, Huntington Park left tackle, intercepted a poorly aimed pass on the Pasadena 5-yard line and started up the field when the game ended.

AU REVOIR SURPRISES AT BORDER

Splashes Way Home Ahead of Favorite in Sea of Mud at Border Track

TIJUANA RACE TRACK, Dec. 10. (Exclusive)—Au Revoir, eight-year-old gelding by Luke McLuke and Agnes Virginia, dropped a bomb into the ranks of the form players here today when he galloped to a length and a half victory over Deep Blue in the sixth and feature race at one mile.

Dunfounder was third. As Revoir, a rank outsider at the odds of 101 to 1, proved to be the class of the field, and caught Chief Clerk coming into the stretch and won handily. Deep Blue was well up all the way, and outgamed the others to get the place, but was no match for the winner.

Baron Long produced his fifth winner in as many starts when Broadmoor, a two-year-old, triumphed over Somers Heat in the third race, a five furlong sprint for maiden two-year-olds.

First race, four and a half furlongs, purse $500, claiming 3 years and up—Lange (White) won, 38.2 seconds. Time, 38.2 seconds. GENEVA AND LOYOLA MAY MEET HERE

A. B. Sandwiler, local promoter, announced last night that he had signed Geneva College's football team of Beaver Falls, Pa., to play Loyola here on Christmas Day. Where the game will be played is not known, although Sandwiler intimated he was dickering for the Coliseum or Wrigley Field.

Geneva's team rose to fame during the past season by conquering Harvard. This is one of the biggest upsets of the year. "Bo" McMillan, former Centre University star, coaches the team.

Loyola, coached by Bill Hase, went through the 1928 season without suffering a defeat. The Lions were tied by Occidental and St. Ignatius of San Francisco.

presented a double-header between L. A. High and Polytechnic, and Occidental and Hawaii. Prices were reasonable and 60,000 spectators saw two of the most thrilling games ever presented in a single afternoon. This year the prep moguls spoiled everybody by putting Poly and L. A. at the start of the year but they ought to be smart enough by now to restore our best prep classic to Turkey Day and get something as good as the Oxy-Hawaii game to go with it.

We sure have a funny situation in the local prep ranks now. Today Inglewood High meets Burbank High at the Coliseum and the winner will play Covina High for the Southern California title. Which presents the peculiar proposition that not one of these three teams ever won the championship of its own league. The winners were all barred from the competition by some technicality or other and the substitutes have turned in some of the greatest exhibitions of prep football that the South has seen. The game today promises to be well played and bitterly contested and should be well worth seeing.

Unless all indications are at fault, the four-race program at Ascot Speedway tomorrow afternoon will attract a large crowd of spectators who will see the most noted dirt-track pilots in the country go out after existing records up to fifty miles on a five-eighths-mile oval.

Promoters of the event, Bill Stapp, Ben Macdougall and Herman Lutz, completed all the details of the meet yesterday and following the final practice of the drivers during the afternoon or drives the track and to all ears of the spectators. The race starts at 10 o'clock tomorrow morning. In the meantime the spectators are urged to get up at least from about 10 o'clock tomorrow morning. up with Pyle. However, Pyle has two football teams headed by Grange and Wilson, respectively, so Cowan had to get one. Losing no time he has signed Ernie Nevers and his Du-luth Zakimos and the latest is that the former Stanford star will be seen in action here within the next few weeks—possibly against the Hollywood Generals, headed by Johnny Hawtins.

in Haloritter a home product who has done very nicely in the past, not only for himself but for the Halbritter had a good proposition to offer the public. His plan was this—to bring Brick Muller's team here to play a local outfit. The local eleven was to be made up largely of the Hollywood Generals, with Ernie Nevers thrown in as a backfield ace. Hawkins, it is said, agreed to this plan.

This, to us, looks like the best plan yet presented, but things have been pretty well summed up by the entrance of the two outside promoters. It is doubtful if any games scheduled at Wrigley Field will draw the crowds to pay for the free public seating. We can appreciate the pro contests there this year and it will be hard to believe that the idea of something better is being offered.

Muller and his mates are under contract to play for Halbritter, that is, they are under contract. It is said that backers of Muller's team went so far "In the red" back East that they welcomed the chance to get Muller and his mates to play here. Muller's outfit is the biggest local attraction and a game promoted with "Brick" as the star and Halbritter directing genuine ought to be played.

Hollywood deserves something and it's too bad the boys can't get together and shoot with Halbritter against Muldoon.

All hands naturally desire the Coliseum and it looks as if Zack Farmer, manager of the big bowl, will be the Moses to lead the boys out of the wilderness. Zack is a firm believer in giving the public the best show for the least money and he will do up to him to decide what's what.

In the meantime preparations are going forward for a high school game between Tuscaloosa and either Bellefonte or Lincoln High of Nebraska. This game is being carded for around the 15th of the month to have their initial season game.

One thing about hydroplane racing that makes it so popular, it isn't necessary to know anything about speedboats to get the desired punch. The tiny sixteen-foot craft twist a mean propeller, and when they get bunched together while traveling around forty miles an hour, the action is fast and of two returning regulars from last year, the other being Bruce "Red" McHaffie. Jack Bruner saw service last season, but was injured early and forced to give up the sport. Some subs from last season, Charley Bone, a star of three years ago, "Red" Badgro, and some ex-frosh make up the squad.

Larane, of course, will occupy his old position at standing guard. McHaffie, who played center last year after Bruner was injured, will be installed at his regular guard job. With Spencer, center, and Tomlinson, Lewis furnishing the main opposition for the position.

Bruner is a big, fast man and a good center. He was playing a classy game last season until injured in one of the Stanford games, when he suffered blood poisoning after a collision with the late Bill Hibbs, of recent football fame, is another center. He performed with last season's frosh, which wound up a season in classy fashion by copying eight straight Badgro was out of basketball last year, being incapacitated with a broken arm, but the year previous had proved a sensational forward along with Kenny Boyer. Badgro was largely responsible for Boyer's success, as his job was to feed the canasta to Boyer and let him shoot the baskets. It is thought that Badgro and Bone will make a much better combination than Boyer and Thomas did last year.

Thomas will not be back this season. He was a pharmacy student, and as that college has but a two-year course, graduated last June. Thomas was rather small for college competition.

who are leading the Winter League race by a half-game margin, open a two-game series with Joe Pirro's All-Stars this afternoon at White Sox Park. The game gets under way at 2:15 o'clock.

Pirrone's club is going to try to climb out of the cellar and Wilkinson and Lou Koupal will do the pitching for the Stars. If the Kings can hold their own against the Stars they will have won the first half of the Winter League race, which ends tomorrow. Barfoot, Keating, Hasty and Moudy will be ready to hurl for the Soap stars.

Coach Wynn Mace called off the annual Occidental College tennis championships yesterday afternoon. The tourney will be completed after Christmas vacation. Ben Gorchakoff, intercollegiate singles champion, advanced to the final round of the titular tourney with a 6-0, 6-3 victory over Dale Robinson, freshman star. Gorchakoff faces the winner of the Craig-Osborne match for the title.

Pomona College's quintet defeated

The Pomona J. C. basketball five, 35 to 16, in easy fashion last night. Mandli, at center, was high-point man for the victors with ten points. Johnson, substitute forward, for the Junior college squad contributed eight digits. In a preliminary contest Citrus Union High School won from the Pomona Freshmen, 30 to 16. The varsity line-ups:

Pomona (35)	Pomona J. C. (16)
Pattson (2)	Whomer (4)
Oshorne (3)	Johnson (2)
Mandli (19)	Edrich (3)
Milnes (2)	Harbo
Gray (2)	Fuchs

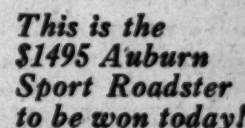

Substitutions—Pomona: Withins (9), Nitter (4)

I'm the punchboard gink. I spend considerable time and money looking for the board with plenty of knives and watches hanging about, and spend a day's salary trying for the tin-bladed knife with the fancy handle. "YES, ETHYL IS HERE WITH UNION OIL COMPANY"

Announcing Union-ETHYL 400 end-point GASOLINE

In line with its policy of constant progress in the automotive field, and desiring at all times to give its patrons the best in every product, Union Oil Company announces its license from the Ethyl Gasoline Corporation of New York to supply genuine Ethyl Gas in a new product known as "Union-Ethyl Gasoline."

All local Union Service Stations now have it ready for you.

Drive into one and try it if you want a new experience with motor fuels.

What to Expect

First expect an absolute end to all "knocking," in 99 out of 100 cases where a motor "knocks," no matter how much your motor is carbonized!

Carbon in cylinders is now an advantage rather than a fault—now remove it from valves only!

Push the throttle to the floor at slow speeds in high, and see how quietly, quickly, powerfully and smoothly you attain forty miles per hour!

Cut gear shifting in traffic down to one-half as much as formerly!

"Union Non-Detonating Gasoline"

With Highly Multiplied Effect

Union Gasoline has always been (as advertised for years) a "non-detonating" fuel.

In its manufacture Union Gasoline is limited to 400 end-point by distillation test, thus producing a fuel that instantly vaporizes completely in the carburetor and yields quicker starting and acceleration.

"Ethyl" is a highly concentrated "non-detonating" agent with a multiplied effect.

So the two in combination—"Union Non-Detonating Gasoline," and "Ethyl"—make the most remarkable improvement in motor fuel since motor cars were first invented.

No other so-called "knockless" compound can produce the same results.

The fuel you buy, therefore, must be genuine Union-Ethyl if you want all that we offer here.

Get it today and try it. Learn what Union-Ethyl does.

Start your motor on the coldest mornings in one-sixth the usual time without using the choke!

Climb 25% steeper grades in high than you have ever done heretofore!

Get out from behind and around cars on the road with a lightning pick-up!

Feel a smoother, "sweeter," stronger, swifter motor through your clutch and steering wheel.

Do it today with Union-Ethyl, the Super-Gasoline. Make a 10-gallon test. Learn what this new fuel means.

All local Union Service Stations have it.

LICENSED BY THE
ETHYL GASOLINE
CORPORATION

Directions for Trial:

Have your tank drained of the ordinary gasoline now in it. This is essential, for Union-Ethyl Gasoline is scientifically prepared in exactly right proportions.

Any dilution with any other fuel lessens its unusual effect. You must drive the car a few blocks, after the tank is filled with Ethyl, to rid your carburetor of the old gasoline.

Then the pure "Ethyl" is ready to perform.

Only when tried in this manner is Union-Ethyl able to show you its best results.

Try Union-Ethyl by doing unusual things—whatever you think are the hardest tests. In this way it will tell you its own story best.

COLDS THAT DEVELOP INTO PNEUMONIA

Persistent coughs and colds now are recognized by high medical authorities as one of the greatest causes of pneumonia. It is not the cold itself, but the complications which follow it, that lead to pneumonia. The colds which develop into pneumonia are usually of the "whooping" type, and are characterized by a persistent cough, a sore throat, and a general feeling of malaise. Thought his was hopeless. Resin cleared away pimples in a week.

Lexington, Mass. I had been suffering from pimples on my neck for years. I believe, had tried everything the sun for them. One day on a friend's advice, I purchased a bottle of Resin. I used it as directed and was astonished at the quick results. After a week's use, the pimples disappeared, leaving the skin as fresh. I had thought my face was hopeless. I was wrong. Why I was overjoyed at the results. You can be sure that you have one more bottle of Resin. (Signed) E. H. B. 3, Bloomfield St.

STORM DAMAGE HEAVY

Imperial Valley Suffers $1,000,000 Loss in Crops and Washed-Out Highways

The freak storm which visited Los Angeles Wednesday, to be followed by pleasant normal weather yesterday, spent its strength last evening in the Imperial Valley and left in its wake damage to crops, roads and railroads amounting to more than $1,000,000. Imperial Valley last night was cut off from the Pacific Coast along all routes save the Southern Pacific. Rockslides in the mountains and washed-out culverts and tracks had stopped all traffic over the San Diego and Arizona lines, with the possibility that at least forty-eight hours will pass before the road can be opened.

A crowd of several hundred gathered yesterday at a Spanish mansion crowning a height in Beverly Hills, formerly the home of Rudolph Valentino, deceased, to see the dwelling, "Falcon Lair," expensive automobile and jewelry, now the property of the dead actor's estate, fall under the auctioneer's hammer. The home was sold to Jules Howard, New York diamond broker, for $145,000. Howard's offer came by wire when the bidding had reached $120,000.

DR. FRANK MCCOY OF HOLLYWOOD OBTAINED SIX EIGHT-TENTHS SHARE OF UNIMPROVED BEVERLY TERRACE HILLS PROPERTY ON A BID OF $31,000.

The two European-made automobiles of the dead film star went to Alex Davidson of Amarillo, Tex. Davidson bid $7900 for Valentino's Italian Isotta Fraschini town car, and $2400 for the Avion Voisin. Alberto Guglielmi, brother of Valentino, obtained the actor's Franklin coupe by a bid of $2100, through an agent, it was stated. A Chevrolet roadster and a Ford truck were purchased by a local resident.

THREE BLOODIED RIDING HORSES OF THE SCREEN IDOL WERE PURCHASED BY A LOCAL HORSE FANCIER. "Ramadan" brought $1000; "Baroun," $600; and "Taqui," $450.

WOMAN KILLED BY MOTOR CAR IN CROSSING STREET

Struck down by an automobile at First street and Edgewood road, Mrs. Dora Rutherford, 41 years of age, of 138 North Edgewood road, died shortly after being taken to Receiving Hospital last night.

The automobile was driven by Bert Shaw of 1906 Fifth street, who was charged with the killing. The car was ordered to appear at the inquest today. According to police, Mrs. Rutherford became confused and ran in front of Shaw's car.

Why You Should Go to Church

By Rev. J. R. Hunter, Church of the New Jerusalem

We should go to Church because you want to go, grateful and happy that God has vouchsafed to you the blessing of a thankful heart and of a mind attuned to spiritual truth.

Sunday should be for us all a different day and the best day of the week. It brings the serenity and peace of worship, of new insight into God's purposes for us and of the meaning of life. In prayer we blot out old resentments, in communion we bring into the presence of God our secret evils of life and renounce them, in new resolve we take on the strength and power that comes from waiting in the presence of the Lord, in listening to His Word, in believing in His promises for us.

As you leave the Church doors you may seem to the passer-by the same individual who entered, but you know, and our Lord knows, that riches unseen have been bestowed upon you, that a new inspiration toward right living is yours, that there is sealed upon your hearts the will to deal more honestly, to think more sincerely, to be better and more useful citizens.

Unhappy is he—the more so because he does not know his own lack, his deadness of spirit—who has not sought the joy and power that comes from aspiration and prayer in the House of God. And happy, indeed, is he who each Sabbath, says in all sincerity, "I was glad when they said unto me, let us go into the House of the Lord."

'TWINKLETOES' TYPICAL

COLLEEN MOORE FILM; KIDNAP
REVUE AT LOEW'S

BY EDWIN SCHALLERT

Those who entertain a high devotion for the works of Thomas Burke may endure some pangs and torments while seeing "Twinkletoes," in which Colleen Moore is starring this week at Loew's State Theatre, even though the rest of the world may not so suffer because this film version of a story by the man who made the Limehouse district in London famous is not carried out in all its drab reality.

This is to say that "Twinkletoes" as it has come to the screen is not a tragedy. It is, in fact, a picture with a happy ending, and in some respects pretty much good old-fashioned movie. It is incidentally Miss Moore's most serious effort along dramatic and emotional lines since "So Big," and as such something of a departure from her usual style of portrayal. This effect of novelty is somewhat increased because she wears a blond wig in the role of the boydenish but sympathetic little heroine, "Twinkletoes" does not strike deep. It is too much of a compromise. It will probably be a popular picture as most of Colleen's pictures are, but personally I would prefer to see her in an out-and-out comedy where she is in her province, unless she is going to attempt a radical characterization such as she did in "So Big."

Individual scenes are well acted in "Twinkletoes," and there is amusement and occasionally a brief touch of pathos, but the essence of the environment in which the little girl who becomes a music hall favorite is not sufficiently depicted to make her plight one of touching dramatic power. There is too much of a play-acting mood running through the picture, and although this may be typical of the "Twinkletoes" character, there is not the contrasting bitterness of the Limehouse atmosphere as it pervades a Burke story to offset this.

The production has been done with a heavy emphasis on melodrama. It develops finally into the old story of the villain attempting to make love to the girl. The fact that Twinkletoes manages to effect her own escape and the hero rushing to the rescue arrives too late as a consequence to help does not alter the pattern character.

This production more than any other that Colleen made seems to present a picture of a character. There is a big street fight at the opening which Twinkletoes assumes to be her own. Her father becomes involved because of her father being accused of crime. Twinkletoes also uses her wits to protect herself in her various adventures, and it must be said she gives a good account of herself in these various combats. The general results of all this will probably be entertaining, if not altogether believable.

There are moments in Colleen's acting that are very effective, and the love scene on the stairway between her and Kenneth Harlan is particularly an unusual one for both in its charm and sincerity. Twinkletoes does not shine through, however, as an original type of character in her interpretation.

Kenneth Harlan's portrayal is not an entirely even one, but on the whole he fills the requirements of the role acceptably. He is at his best, in fact, in the tough-cut sort of character, manifesting considerable force in the more dramatic scenes. Tully Marshall, Gladys Brockwell, in a portrait of more or less horror, and Warner Oland are among other principals. Lucien Littlefield is unusually good. Julian Johnston elicits interest. The picture was directed by Charles Brabin. Additional entertainment is a Kidie Revue which meets with the warmest approval of the audience, even though a long-drawn-out affair. The youngsters are a clever lot, especially in their dancing, and there is one boy character song that is a real hit, as are the young roping experts, who are really amazing. Jan Rubini offers a violin solo that appeals.

HOWES WILL DIRECT

Reed Howes, H. J. Brown, star, had to give up his anticipated trip to New York in order to start work on a new picture entitled "The Scorching." Production will commence the first of next week with the young star himself directing, as Brown will not return from the East for another week.

VIRTUE IS ITS OWN REWARD

BY MARQUIS BUBBY

Love 'em and leave 'em, fool 'em and forget 'em, says the modern young thing about men in "Love 'em and Leave 'em," which opened at the Metropolitan yesterday.

Virtue is its own reward, but it doesn't pay the butcher and the baker, but it is the only reward gained by the older sister in the picture. The respectable girl got the department store employee, and probably a fat in Flatbush, while the younger sister, who was dedicated to a bad 'un, gets the department store owner and a Rolls-Royce.

Now isn't that a dramatic violation of the old Greek rule that in drama virtue should always triumph over evil?

"Love 'em and Leave 'em" if it were a novel would be just the kind you would take with you to read during the summer vacation—interesting, but not stimulating.

The picture is of course, an adaptation of the stage success of the same name.

There are two sisters in the "go-in-on." The elder sister, the kind always pointed out as a good example to other girls, is in love with a young fellow-worker in Gineberg's department store. The younger sister, a live wire to put it mildly, worships the theory that other pastures are always greener, manages to annex the young man for herself. When she isn't making eyes at her sister's "young man," she is betting on the wrong horse with department store money. Everyone else is somewhat annoyed at this little episode, but the young lady most concerned, which moves one to remark that there is undoubtedly a special providence for good-looking black sheep.

But the good sister finally gets the man and her reward, and the bad one a Rolls Royce, so pick your own moral.

Evelyn Brent is excellent as Mayne, the elder sister. This young trouper

CURTIS' DIRECTION SAVES TRITE STORY AT UPTOWN

BY HERBERT MOULTON

As long as there seems to be a terrible dearth of original movie plots, I would suggest that the recent foreign directorial importations be permitted to remain in their own daft way, all are the old time-honored yarns, beginning with Situation AA-1 and running through to ZZ-99.

This is apparently, is what Michael Curtis has done in the case of his first American film production, "The Third Degree," which had its world premiere at the Uptown yesterday.

I will not say that the story contains all of the familiar situations inherent to the cinema. There isn't, for example, a train-wreck in the sixth reel, nor an unmarried heroine cast out in a snowstorm with an unwanted little stranger clutched to her breast.

Mr. Curtis' picture has almost everything else. It is good, old-fashioned melodrama, with the austere father driving his son out of the parental home because he has married beneath his class. Et cetera.

Those who like their melodrama in the raw, however, will be disappointed in "The Third Degree." It has a polish about it that makes it distinctly different from others of its ilk. Curtis demonstrates his directorial artistry in his treatment of the story, and while it remains melodramatic in character, its situations do not come out and smack one in the face with the customary vigor.

In the camera effects particularly, Curtis discloses a flair for the novel that characterizes the work of so many foreign directors. Some of the moving shots are unique and add immeasurably to the force of the plot. He effects a visual expression of a situation in a few seconds by an almost continuous dissolving of scenes. In some of its phases, the picture is reminiscent of "The Last Days of Pompeii" and "Variety."

Although admittedly of interest primarily because of its direction, "The Third Degree" brings out the talents of several players to excellent advantage.

Chief among them is Jason Robards, the male leading role. I have never observed him do better work. His scene while undergoing the "third degree" is one that will be remembered for a long time.

Dolores Costello is billed as the girl, but in view of Robards' performance it would seem more consistent to make it a co-starring arrangement.

Miss Costello's work is excellent, although the role is a trifle overburdened with adversity and sorrow. Her brief moment of happiness as Robards' bride, is a scene of gorgeous quality.

Kenneth Harlan plays a rather conventional role as the girl's mother and Rockefelleroes demonstrates that he is no slouch at villainy.

Kate Price contributes a humorous bit in the early scenes, as does Tom Santschi in the role of the father.

Others are Harry Todd, Mary Louise Miller, Michael Vartch, David Torrence and Fred Kelsey.

The unique photographic effects are the work of Hal Mor.

The picture was adapted from Charles Klein's story by Ross McDy and Graham Baker.

If this is a sample of what fresh vision and treatment can do to our hackneyed stories, let us hope for a refreshing of all the old thrillers and homespun dramas.

LOS ANGELES TRIO
IN VARIED PROGRAM

Classical, Modernist and French Composers on Pleading Concert List

BY ISABEL MORSE JONES

The Los Angeles Trio, May MacDonald Hope, pianist, Ilya Bronson, cellist and David Crocov, violinist, are the most consistent effort in the city toward chamber-music of finish and distinction. The second concert of its eleventh season, given last night at the Biltmore, was but more proof of its musical worthiness and of the high regard in which this group is held by discriminating music lovers.

The program consisted of Beethoven's "Deities" trio, No. 6, in D major, "Five Impressions of a Holiday," by Eugene Goossens and the Saint-Saens trio in E minor Op. 92.

The Beethoven number was the most beautiful offering of the evening. It was done to honor the master in this the hundredth year since his death, and the attitude in which all three players approached the work was noble and uplifting. Great simplicity, an all-enveloping musical understanding and a mastery of tone are requisite for Beethoven playing and the trio manifested all of these.

Not having heard David Crocov, with the trio before, I was especially impressed with the warmth of tone and the resiliency of the instruments which have been developed this season. This player has style, musical instinct and a fine reverence for the composer's intention combined with an unobtrusive leadership as the violinist of the trio which is admirable.

The "Impressions," programmed as "In the Hills," "By the Rivers," "The Water Wheel," "The Village Church" and "At the Fair," were emotional, feeling glimpses of nature, surprising the listener with unexpected cadences and establishing a delightfully vague, hazy "atmosphere" around a more or less definite melodic idea. This music was not written to be understood, but to be absorbed by way of its vibrations and enjoyed.

The Saint-Saens trio was written by a pianist-composer and the piano is given prominence accordingly. It was played with becoming grace and an easy freedom which made its charming melodies and definite rhythms most enjoyable.

JOHN STONE ADAPTS
"AUCTIONEER" FOR FOX

What is purported to be an unequalled record was established recently by John Stone, scenarist, who, while not under contract, has been consistently writing for William Fox for the past seven years.

With the filming of the last scene of "The Auctioneer" yesterday, under the direction of Al Green, was revealed the fact that Stone's screen version of this stage vehicle was written and accepted by both the director and chief studio executive, Sol Wurtzel approximately ten days after he was assigned to the task.

Paradoxically, Director Green was so impressed with the script that he was impelled to personally congratulate him for his accomplishment, as he was thus enabled to finish the picture within the scheduled time.

UNIQUE SCRIPT FROM
BURNS-VORHAUS DUO

Jessie Burns and Bernard Vorhaus yesterday delivered to James Cruze a script unique in American scenario history.

Instead of the screen version of "Louie the Fourteenth" being in approximately 275 scenes as are most feature scenarios, the film story for Wallace Beery carried about 1000 "camera angles," being the closely visualized scenes as they will be shot after the director's point of view—thus making for economy of operation and more facile transition onto the screen. The old-fashioned continuity merely conveys "master scenes" which the director, must, perforce, mentally chop up into actual camera shots.

GIRL INHERITS LARGE ESTATE

Sole Heir as Judge Rules Father Left No Will

Reports of Two Testaments Refused by Court

Divorced Mother Appointed as Administratrix

Fourteen-year-old Audrey Briggs became the sole heir of the $125,000 estate of her father, George M. Briggs of Venice, who died several months ago, by a decision given yesterday by Judge Reeve in Probate Court. Briggs left no will, the court ruled, despite the fact that during lengthy probate proceedings there was testimony to the effect he had made two will, neither of which was produced in court.

The litigation was started by Earl A. McDonald of Venice, with an attempt to probate a lost will of which a purported copy was submitted. Briggs left no will, the court ruled, despite the fact that during lengthy probate proceedings there was testimony to the effect he had made two will, neither of which was produced in court.

Mrs. Hazel Woodside, a neighbor of Briggs, was called as a witness. She said she had seen a will which left her virtually all the estate. Judge Reeve held that it had not been shown, with any certainty, that there had ever been a will and he therefore declared Briggs to have died intestate. Judge Reeve appointed Audrey's mother, Mrs. Edythe Peters, who was divorced from Briggs, as administratrix.

Christmas Seal Fund Needed to Help Children

One child out of ten in the public schools of Los Angeles is undernourished and underdeveloped, according to health investigations. During the year, through the work of the Los Angeles Tuberculosis Association, several hundred children marked as victims of tuberculosis have been restored to health.

The campaign against tuberculosis is made possible by the sale of Christmas seals. The needs of the association for the coming year total $75,000. More than a third of this sum has been raised, and the appeal is being made before Christmas day.

Women Dispose

Of this new hygienic pad as easily as tissue—no laundry

COUNTLESS women have discarded old-time "sanitary" pads for a new and better way. A way that offers far greater protection. A way, too, that banishes the old-time problem of disposal.

It is in 10 better-class women now use "KOTEX."

Discards as easily as a piece of tissue. No laundry. No embarrassment.

Five times as absorbent as ordinary cotton pads.

Deodorizes, thus ending ALL danger of offending.

Obtainable at all drug and department stores simply by saying "KOTEX." You ask for it without hesitancy.

Package of 12 costs only a few cents. Proves old ways a needless risk. In fairness to yourself, try it.

Library Heads to Combat Thieves

Revealing the Damage

Marcia Hobin is shown holding books which have been burnt, torn and otherwise mutilated.

BOOK MUTILATION FOUGHT

Meeting of City and County Library Officials Called to Combat Grave Situation

Protecting the books of the public, county and school libraries from theft and mutilation is becoming so serious a question that a meeting of representatives of the libraries of the city and county has been called to discuss ways and means of reducing damage to public property.

According to Dr. A. E. Bortwick, an authority on library development, the greatest advance of the last fifty years in library methods has been in the liberal privileges of home circulation of books and the access to the open shelves. Yet these privileges are in grave danger through the theft and mutilation of valuable reference books.

A recent glaring example is that of a valuable reference book, long since out of print, and another copy impossible to find, from which pictures were taken throughout, presumably by a motion-picture expert who needed certain buildings, places and costumes for the correct atmosphere of a picture.

For those who continue to break the law which under the Penal Code makes it a misdemeanor to mutilate or steal any book belonging to a public library or museum, the full penalty will be exacted, it has been announced at the Los Angeles City Library.

Seventeen offenders have been arrested by the public library detectives in the past several weeks, reports Samuel Wardlaw, detective. Of these some have been given a jail sentence, some fined and others committed for examination to the psychopathic ward.

Jedediah Smith to be Honored by Rotarians

Three hundred Los Angeles Rotarians yesterday at their luncheon at the Biltmore were invited by Laurence L. Hill of the Historical Society of Southern California to join with that society, the Native Sons and Daughters of the Golden West and the California Historical and Landmarks Club in paying a tribute next Friday and Saturday evenings to the memory of Jedediah Strong Smith, first American overland into California, by attending the historical drama, "Pathfinders of the Sierras," which these groups will present at the Biltmore Auditorium.

"Despite the fact that exactly 100 years ago Smith blazed the trail which the Santa Fe traders and the gold miners finally used in reaching California, made the first authentic map of the West and then died a martyr at the hands of the Indians to the cause of the great westward movement, no one except a few historians seems to know that this very extraordinary character ever existed," said Hill.

"Lewis and Clark, on the other hand, who did no more for the Northwest than Smith did for the Southwest, are household words all over the nation and have a world fair held in their honor."

CHRISTMAS STOCKINGS FILLED FOR VETERANS

December 23 will be a busy day for the division of co-operation with war veterans. Under the direction of Mrs. G. H. Weinstein, district chairman, the committee plans to fill several thousand stockings with gifts for veterans in the hospitals at Savelle, San Fernando, Barstow and Compton, and to pack several hundred boxes for the needy veterans and their families, who are not being cared for in hospitals. Each club chairman is asked to bring to Savelle at Veterans' Memorial Hall, 1770 South Beloit (103rd) avenue, by 9:30 a.m., and at 2:30 p.m.

High Officials of Illinois Answer Southland Call

Southern California has an attraction for public officials of Illinois. Three of them are now here. Jedediah Morgan, congressman-elect of the Seventeenth Illinois District, and Mrs. Hall are spending the winter in Long Beach. It is their fifth winter in Southern California.

L. L. Emerson, Secretary of State for Illinois, is in Los Angeles for a month's stay. He is a banker.

Andrew Russell of Jacksonville, Ill., who served several terms as State treasurer of that State, is in Los Angeles for a stay of several weeks.

Plans Made to Handle Holiday Express Rush

The American Railway Express Company yesterday announced the opening of four temporary offices for the Christmas rush on the 18th inst. These will be placed at 4780 South Broadway, 4321 West Second street, 3406 South Vermont street and 2106 West Seventh street. They will be open until the 23rd inst.

The regular offices of the company are at 22 South Olive street, 547 South San Pedro street, 416 Central avenue, Third street and Santa Fe avenue, 7112 Santa Monica Boulevard and 5607 Pasadena avenue.

APPELLANTS TO BE HEARD

The paying of June street from Melrose avenue to Rosewood avenue having been completed, the City Council on the 26th inst. will hear appeals against the assessments to pay for the work.

TAXI STRIFE REVEALED IN COURT FIGHT

Peerless Restrained From Practices Charged to It by Yellow Cab Company

A taxicab war that has been raging under the surface for several weeks broke over into the superior court yesterday when the Yellow Cab Company obtained from Judge Shaw a temporary restraining order enjoining the Peerless Cab Company from doing several things pending trial of a suit to enjoin it permanently.

A little black book is one of the main subjects of controversy between the two taxi companies, according to the complaint filed yesterday for the Yellow Cab by attorneys Roger Marchetti and Leonard Comery.

This little book, the complaint relates, contains a list of the Yellow Cab stands, with secret notes setting forth how much rent is paid for each and to whom. It disappeared from the Yellow Cab office incidentally with the resignation of Walter E. Davis, formerly chief dispatcher, the complaint states, and Davis, now in the employ of the Peerless Company, it is charged, is using the information carried in a campaign to outbid the Yellow Cab's stands.

The Peerless Company also is trying to get certain taxi drivers, who are in the employ of the Yellow Cab, to leave the Yellow Cab's service, it is charged. Judge Shaw will hear both sides of the controversy the 17th inst.

TRIO HELD IN $100,000 THEFT PLOT

Long Beach Men Accused of Conspiring to Obtain Oil Well Supplies

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

LONG BEACH, Dec. 10.—An asserted embezzlement conspiracy that is expected to reveal illegal conversion of more than $100,000 worth of oil-field supplies was revealed here yesterday through the arrest of three men and a statement that others will be in custody within the next twenty-four hours. Investigation leading to the uncovering of the so-called conspiracy has been under way for four months in charge of Detective Sergeant LeBaron.

Those under arrest are Graham Kindred, manager of the Packard Trucking Company, held on suspicion of embezzlement; James Vernon, owner of a trucking business, booked on charges of conspiracy.

According to LeBaron, a check of the accounts of the three men revealed a conspiracy to obtain oil-field supplies from local oil well supply houses of more than $100,000. The scheme of operation was to obtain supplies on credit and then convert them into cash by selling them to other supply houses at a profit.

Why November increases should be lower than October is one of the puzzles we never have been able to solve," he said yesterday in discussing the variation.

The second school month for 1925 showed an increase over the same period for the previous year of 27.11 while 1926 shows an increase of 28.713 over 1925. The figures for November, 1925, reveal a gain of 14.511 in the year, while November of this year gives 22,000 increase over last year.

Tardy teachers and tardy pupils made a much better showing this year than last, and Chief Tritt believes that clocks must be keeping better time than they did a year ago.

Council Wants Permanent Way for Harbor Road

In order to permanently link the Santa Fe Railroad's harbor line with the municipal belt line railroad at Los Angeles Harbor, the City Council has under consideration the adoption of an ordinance providing for acquiring the necessary 50-foot right-of-way to provide the desired connection.

The Railroad Commission's permit for temporary connection between the Santa Fe and the municipal belt line at McFarland street and Anaheim street expires December 15, 1926, so the harbor board wants proceedings for the permanent connection started now.

It is expected the theater will be ready for a grand opening early in February. Hollingsworth said. The theater itself will be the nucleus for other buildings and innovations to be added from year to year. It is stated.

William J. Earl to be Married on Wednesday

A marriage license was obtained yesterday by William Jarvis Earl, son of the late E. T. Earl and Mrs. William Earl Fowler, who died last year, and Miss Lois C. Griffin of La Canada. The ceremony will be performed next Wednesday morning at the La Canada Church, near East Earl estate at Alta Canyada, to be followed by a wedding breakfast at the Earl town house at Wilshire Boulevard and Carondelet street. Earl is 23 years of age and Miss Griffin, 18.

FILMS WILL LOSE EMBRYO STARS

Jackie and Dorothy Morgan Given Into Custody of Grandmother, Who Lives in St. Thomas, Ont., Far From Lots of Make-Believe World.

There will be no more motion pictures for Dorothy Morgan, 11 years of age, and Jackie Morgan, 11, for a long time as a result of the abrupt termination yesterday of a strenuous Creole Church concert over their custody.

The children are to be surrendered into the custody of the parents of their mother, Margaret Morgan Wycklife, who was killed several months ago when she either threw from a speeding automobile or was thrown from a speeding automobile in Glendale. At the time Mrs. Wycklife was riding with her second husband, who disappeared after the tragedy.

Jackie Morgan has attained considerable fame as the Chester Gump of the "Chester Gump" picture played in pictures for several years.

After Mrs. Wycklife's death, attorney Charles Robinson, counsel for the mother, was appointed guardian of the children. This was opposed by Atty. General Morris, who had represented the mother, and who had been in the suit for a divorce from Morgan a year previous.

J. F. Murphy, the film And Gump, also moved for the children's custody. Murphy is ready to assume the expense of education of the children.

After several hearings in the Probate Court, Atty. General Morris appeared as counsel for Mrs. Annie Robinson, who is the mother of the children. The children were turned over to her. Yesterday in Judge Willis' court it was agreed that the children be sent to St. Thomas, Ont., Canada, the two children by the time will be far from the lots of Hollywood during the rest of their childhood.

Many a rosy apple has acquired its shiny skin from saliva and a dirty handkerchief. Mothers should know that, aside from a disease preventive, it will check rot to thoroughly clean fruit before it is put on the table.

CHEF WYMAN'S Suggestion's for TOMORROW'S MENU

With this sauce made as follows: Take two tablespoons of butter or the fat from the pan and two tablespoons of flour, cook until smooth, add the cupful of cream, one-quarter teaspoonful of each of salt and pepper, dash of nutmeg and one tablespoonful of chopped parsley, boil this for ten minutes. When ready pour over chicken, garnish with parsley and lemon. As a vegetable asparagus tips may be used placed around the platter four in a bunch.

PEA PURÉE
Two cupfuls dried peas, three pinches cold water, one-eighth pound bacon, one-half teaspoonful sugar, one teaspoonful salt, white pepper, one large onion.

Pick over and wash the peas. Soak overnight for several hours in cold water. Put them on to boil in three pinches of fresh water, and let them simmer until the peas are tender. Drain and add seasoning and butter.

Put bacon cut in small cubes in frying pan and cook until a light yellow, add onion in dice and continue cooking with bacon until brown. Serve puree like mashed potatoes. Pour the bacon and onion over it before serving. Serve hot. Add croutons.

DIXIE CHICKEN
Cut spring chicken in fillets using all the parts excepting neck and lower wings, marinate one and one-half hours in molasses and vinegar, add butter, lemon juice and the juice of two small lemons. Dust with salt and pepper and fry in deep fat. Fry in butter or salt pork fat. I prefer the latter. Fry until a golden brown in color and must be well done. Serve

NOUGAT ICE CREAM
One quart cream, one-half pound peanut brittle, one bottle whipping cream, meringue shells.

Take the quart of cream and half freeze it; put the candy through the food chopper twice, then draw it through the half-frozen cream, place in mold again and freeze. The candy imparts a flavor and color to the cream which is delightful. When ready to serve fill in meringue shells, two put together, on a bed of whipped cream.

Answers to Mothers
God could not be everywhere; therefore He made mothers.—Jewish proverb.

LATENT RICKETS, AND HIVES
Mrs. M.'s little boy of 5 years of age has always been strong and healthy, but he has a slightly deformed chest bone. The doctor told her it was due to latent rickets. If he had rickets, Mrs. M. never knew it. However, although he plays and sleeps well, he has hives and colds.

If your boy didn't have the proper diet and liberal amounts of air and sunshine when he was a baby, it is quite probable that he did have rickets. Mrs. M. and you didn't realize it. The fact that he has hives and colds that his intestinal tract is upset, and the night sweats also indicate that he has latent rickets.

Until you can see your physician, put him on an exclusive whole-grain diet, or whole-wheat biscuits or muffins and milk diet, for two or three days. Has he been having the right diet and having a rest period each day? You didn't state whether he is normal weight or not. He will be underweight.

There is nothing that can be done about the deformity now. He may outgrow it, as some of the slightest deformities are outgrown. Notice his posture and see that he stands, walks and runs correctly, and if he doesn't, you must correct him.

After his daily bath, I suggest you give him a massage to stimulate his circulation and improve the tone of his muscles. You can use a little cod liver oil or rub with cod liver oil on his whole body (except the head) every day, beginning with a few minutes and increasing gradually. The cold air in contact with his skin is also beneficial.

He should have some cod liver oil—two teaspoonfuls a day—until you can see your doctor and get specific directions. I will run the foundation diet for each child:

DAILY FOUNDATION DIET FOR EACH CHILD
Part I: Protected Foods—One and a half pints of milk, at least. One full cupful of vegetables (especially the green leafy vegetables), part fresh if possible. One small serving of other foods high in protein: meat, eggs, fish, cheese, nuts.

Part II: Energy Foods—Cereals, including whole-grain breads. Fats in the form of butter, cream, egg yolks and nuts.

(We have a list of books on modern child feeding which you may borrow from the foundation diet.)

An entertainment relating to the art of wireless telegraphy will be given.

The school now at Eighth and Grand, will be located in its new building at Sixteenth and Olive streets after February 2, 1927.

CONCERT ANNOUNCED
A varied program has been arranged by the Board of Park Commissioners for the regular Sunday afternoon concert at Westlake Park tomorrow at 2 o'clock. Misha Ogina and his concert orchestra will open the program and will be supported by the Optimists' Male Quartet and Ruth Pitts, soprano. Following these artists a concert will be given by Roberto's Golden State band which will close at 4:30.
